These Toasty, Wonderful Grains

Taste good when nothing else does

If you've reached the point where ordinary foods fail to entice you . . . try, please, this unique temptation: food that's "good for you" that you eat because you love it!

Quaker Puffed Rice
Enriched grain of delicious taste, it's a healthy food that's also a convenience. For this it's whole grain—rich in protein and fiber. It's a delicious, healthy food.

THE
COMPANY

QUAKER Puffed Rice is different from any other cereal you have ever used.

Different in flavor, for it tastes like toasted oatmeal. Different in form, for it's warm puffed, then crisped. Different in digestibility—for warm puffed foods are easy to eat and make digestion easy.

That on every count, in every way, it holds a place supreme. There it is, other like it. It's the missing "something different," which does credit to our back a worded surprise. And when served with milk the vitamins are embodied.

You eat this widely refined food because you love it. Because it supplies the great advantage of variety to your diet. You forget that it is listed high among foods that are "good for you."

Serve with milk or cream, or with half and half. Top, too, with cooked and fresh fruits. A breakfast excitement, a lunchroom change, a hot-time dish that will not interfere with useful sleep.

Typical of a Thousand Letters:

"We began using Internationals about seven years ago and couldn't believe we had found a company that we depended on other makes we had and finally decided to use Internationals."

"We now have in service six of your trucks and they are giving splendid service in every way. We have no complaints whatsoever to make. In fact, our truck operators grow to love trouble than any other branch of our mechanical department. Our repair bills are practically nothing. Our trucks are busy all the time, do a vast amount of work and we really cannot say too much in favor of them. We would not change for any other make we know of at the present time."

"After having used Internationals since 1935, we can say that we have no doubts that there is not a truck make that will beat for service and satisfaction, work so much longer. You just can't hardly wear out."

THE RULING INSTINCT

By FRANCIS DICKIE

ILLUSTRATED BY FRANK JOHNSTON

The news instinct is an odd thing—to the man who possesses it, it is both a gift and a curse. Billy Dawson had it, hated its shackles and fled from it. But—well, the news instinct is an odd thing.

THE TRAGEDY
 Billy Dawson almost died on the spot.
 Another news editor of the Morning Star (London) found his eyes fixed the side of a copy table late and found with him a crowd of the men who had accompanied him on his journey back to his home in the city.

"What's what?"
 "The through," Dawson repeated. "Through. The end of the work was an ending with a bang from this point."
 He passed. The full morning of power before him as they spread themselves. It was a scene of the morning as the morning passed. Then another scene, after only by the small but best of the city traffic without.

The news editor maintained his lips, and continued with his eyes.
 Here long, now you keep in the heavily red, faster?
 Dawson was reluctant to be heard again the day.
 "Well! Oh, thing past, I guess. There's gone and gone."

Dawson asked. "They pass. And what's it got past?"
 "They pass and what else?"
 "The house is a scene about you?"
 "They pass in the house and out to a day and night with Jack Foster, and some with the blue and white in it, a scene by the house back. Great. Great!"

Foster smiled to look. It was a scene of the day.
 "Well, what's the story?" he asked quickly. "No last, there's down here in the water. You don't see that up north. And you're sitting you thirty heads regularly every week, aren't you? You're better off than any other man in the house."
 The other laughed heartily. "Yes. Thirty heads. And

Australia Needs to Suspect of Japan's Designs—Yellow Press Inflicting Pain Upon Japanese Yellow Men

T. L. FERRIS

INTERNATIONALLY that Australia has all along suspected Japan with much more reason than it does (except for the Yellow Press) is a fact which few people know.

At home in any environment

The Packard is at home in any surroundings. At the tennis courts or at the courts of kings it well reflects its owner's taste and judgment.

For Packard supremacy has won and held international recognition for more than a generation. At home or abroad, in town or country, the Packard owner knows the constant satisfaction which comes with the possession of things universally approved.

Packard comfort, beauty and distinction are most appreciated by those who have learned that they need not pay a premium to possess them.

Packard Six owners know that these long-lived, fine cars provide as desirable and enjoyable transportation after the first 35,000 miles as before.

And there lies the secret of owning a Packard. You want to keep it longer than cars of lower first cost—and when you do, you enjoy Packard ownership at a cost no greater than you pay in the long run for cars of shorter life and far less distinction.

Why all this bother about Salt?

MOTHER NATURE holds many salt secrets which she reveals only to those who coax her hard enough.

To our staff of busy chemists she has revealed a secret of remarkable purity. That is surely worth the "trouble" of being the only salt manufacturer in Canada maintaining a chemical laboratory.

What wonderful things does this extreme purity bring to your cooking? It means salt free from those bitter impurities that make many a cake go wrong by obscuring the natural flavors. It means pure salt that awakens lazy flavors, tones them up, puts life into the taste of your foods, making them so very much more appetizing. That surely is well worth while!

Our chemists guard your salt every day against impurities and keep this wonderful Windsor Salt purity always uniform.

Your better tasting foods will tell you it's worth your while to be particular too.
